SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Cal. Cox Mortally Wounded
by Libb Wallace at Brown's Ranch.

Wallace Shot Through the Leg by Cox in Return.

The Ownership of a Pair of Blankets
the Cause of the Shooting.

The ringing of the telephone bell in the Huachuca Water Company's office last night aroused Manager Clark from his slumbers at 12 o'clock.

The dispatch stated that a shooting affray had occurred at Brown's ranch, near the mouth of Carr's Canyon, and that several men had been shot. The services of Dr. Guelphellos were desired as soon as possible. Mr. Clark at once went to the office of the doctor and delivered the verbal message. No time was lost; a team was procured and accompanied by George Athas the doctor left for the scene of the difficulty. Nothing more was heard of the trouble till this afternoon when a telegram to the Prospector conveyed the additional news from Huachuca Siding stating that one man had been killed and one wounded. Just before going to press, however, Manager Clark allowed a Prospector representative to use the telephone line and the following information was gleaned: For some time past a bitter feeling had existed between the two men. Cox is the foreman of the White & Robbins company and Wallace until recently has been the foreman of the Bartaremarie Castle company. A short time ago Wallace came to the ranch of which Cox was foreman and asked for a pair of blankets which belonged to a young man who had promised to loan them to him. Cox told him that they were not there, or words to that effect, when Wallace proceeded to the house and breaking into it took a pair of blankets belonging to Mr. Robbins. Cox told Wallace at a future time to return the blankets or he would get himself into trouble. This command Wallace paid no attention to, and the feeling on the part of both men was not the best when they met at Brown's ranch last night where a social dance was in progress.

The particulars of the shooting could not be gleaned, but the result of the affair was that Cox was shot through the bowels, and Wallace received a bullet in the leg. Wallace is on his way to Tombstone while Cox is lying at the Ash Canyon ranch, suffering greatly and very low. Sheriff Slaughter sent two men to arrest Wallace who is on his way here. They will probably be in town before the Prospector goes to press. Dr. Goodfellow will be back about six o'clock when more information will be forthcoming.

The Wade Hampton mine, spoken of in these columns yesterday in connection with a new strike, is in Yavapai county and has always been considered a copper property. Like the rich silver strike in the Queen mine at Bisbee it was encountered in running a tunnel from one group to another.

For Sale.

Charles Holmes, an old hermit of Connecticut, predicts that there won't be a railroad line left in the country twenty-five years hence. Why not get him into the weather bureau?

A Kansas man who introduced a legislative resolution that crippled soldiers should have the preference in office, employs 438 men at home, and not an old soldier, crippled or well, can be found among them.

New Zealand also imported the English sparrow, and now the native birds have been driven out and a reward of five cents each is offered for the death of every sparrow. He is a living chirping pestilence.

There is also a bill before the New York Assembly to amend the blot laws. What applies to an individual should also apply to a newspaper, and a paper should have as good a show as a horse thief at least.

Over 75,000 monkeys were killed in Brazil last year, and their pelts shipped to London to be made into fur. If the fashion continues the monkey race will be thinned out amazingly in the next two or three years.

A Buffalo coal dealer figures that no family has saved over half a ton of coal on account of the open winter. Coal burns out so fast anyhow, whether the weather is cold or warm, and the winter's supply averages about so much.

In digging out a street in Toledo some human bones were found which had evidently been buried thirty or forty years, and the Star demands to know to whom they belonged. The owner will probably call at the office and report.
